3. Accounting Pronouncements adopted in 2019

Effective January 1, 2019, the Company applied IFRS 16 using the modified retrospective approach and therefore the comparable information has not been restated and continues to be reported under IAS 17.

As a lessee, the Company previously classified leases as operating or finance leases based on its assessment of whether the lease transferred significantly all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset to us. Under IFRS 16, we recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for all leases.

i) Significant Accounting Policies

On transition to IFRS 16, the Company elected to apply the practical expedient to assess which transactions are leases. It applied IFRS 16 only to contracts that were previously identified as leases, at the date of initial application. Contracts that were not identified as leases under IAS 17 were not reassessed for whether there is a lease. Therefore, the definition of a lease under IFRS 16 was applied only to contracts entered into or changed after January 1, 2019.

The Company also used the following practical expedients when applying IFRS 16 to leases previously classified as operating leases Under IAS 17:

- Applied a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.
- Applied recognition exemptions to leases that, at the commencement date, have a lease term of 12 months or less and do not contain a purchase option.
- Applied the low value lease exemption not to recognize right-of-use assets at the date of initial application.
- Excluded initial direct costs from measuring the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application.
- The Company has elected not to separate lease and non-lease components for leases of its properties.

At transition, lease liabilities were measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted at the Company's incremental borrowing rate as of January 1, 2019. Right-of-use assets are measured at an amount equal to the lease liability and are subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term.

The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, Novra's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the incremental borrowing rate is used as the discount rate.

ii) Impact on Financial Statements

On initial transition the Company recognized right-of-use assets representing its rights to use the underlying assets and lease liabilities representing its rights to make lease payments. Right-of-use assets and lease liabilities of $2,951 million were recorded on January 1, 2019. The weighted average discount applied at January 1, 2019 was 5.88%.

A reconciliation of the right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for the nine months ended September 30, 2019 is presented in Note 11.
